VOL. XVIII, NO. 2

THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE, THURSDAY, JANUARY 13, 1927.

Mrs. (Dr.) R. K. Little was operated upon at the local hospital on Monday morning for appendicitis, and is doing well.

A Western Canada weekly paper offers merchants the following advice on how to avoid paying income tax: "Don't advertise!"

Doyghobors residing near Shoultice, Alberta, have formed a separate school district and will open a school at an early date.

Ren Mulford says: The wise merchant who makes an attractive display of well-advertised products is "appropriating the big show" at no cost to himself. That's one part of super-salesmanship.

Greenhill Temple, Pythian Sisters, will stage a whist drive in the Lodge Hall on Wednesday night next, January the 19th, at 8 o'clock sharp. Six good prizes and the usual supper and dancing to follow whist.

In our last issue we referred to a Scotchman who had purchased a score card and visited a game where neither side scored. Following the fact last night, a Scotch lassie suggested that Scottie should have been there with that card.

Jackie Connolly, the speed demon of the Moose Jaw Maroons, continues to set the pace for individual point honors in the Prairie Hockey League, having up to Saturday last twelve goals to his credit, also eleven assists, a total of twenty-three points.

A whist drive and dance will be held in the Oddfellows' Hall at Bellevue tonight under the auspices of the Bellevue Hockey Club.

Nurse McKerrow left for Hillcrest this week, where she has taken a position in the Hillcrest hospital. —Clareholm Local Press.

The charge of false pretences preferred against J. O. Jones and T. Henderson, former Signal Hill Oil officials, has been dismissed.

The Fernie Free Press remarks: "Augmentation Bill Cameron, of curling fame, will be a candidate again this year for the mayoralty of Cranbrook. The fight will be between Tommy Roberts and himself."

A. L. Smith, K.C., has been appointed agent of the attorney-general for the district of Calgary, including the duties of crown prosecutor. This position was vacated by James Short, K.C., at the end of December, after serving in that capacity since the provinces were created, more than twenty-one years ago.

When Harry Ellis, Glen Kay and William Marmoch, three youthful holdups, were arraigned in police court at Calgary on Friday last on charges arising out of recent holdups in the city, they each were sentenced to three years in prison upon pleading guilty. Another lad was given sixty days as an accomplice. Sentences should have been accompanied by a rider, providing for a few applications of the lash.

LOCAL MOOSE HALL OFFICIALLY OPENED

Blairmore Lodge No. 105, L.O.O.M., officially opened their new hall here last night. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. At 8 o'clock a programme of instrumental and vocal music was rendered, followed by dancing. At 11 o'clock luncheon was served by the ladies, when upwards of three hundred men, women and children partook of the good things provided. Excellent music for dancing was furnished by a four-piece local orchestra, made up of Mrs. Bond, piano; Ed. Royle, cornet; Joe Royle, violin, and Maurice Bond, drums. Dancing was kept up till 1.30.

The new hall is one of the finest in the district. The dance floor is 33-00 feet dimensions. Being conveniently located and equipped with splendid kitchen facilities, the new hall will fill a want as a dance hall or public meeting place.

HOCKEY TOMORROW NIGHT

One of the big hockey games of the season will be staged at the Blairmore Arena tomorrow night between the Coleman senior team and the Blairmore Tuxis juniors, at 8 o'clock. These teams have clashed a couple of times this season and on each occasion have handed out a splendid exhibition of the game. The teams are well matched.

Come out and root for them, and to ensure your presence, buy a tag early in the day.

Imbedded in a woman's lung for twenty-five years, a screw has just been removed by operation at a hospital in Sydney, Australia. The woman, when a child, swallowed a screw about half an inch in length. It was only recently, when she developed a cough, and occasionally brought up blood, that she was reminded of the incident. An examination revealed the screw in the right lung. The metal had been badly corroded and the thread of the screw had totally disappeared.

Carrying the ashes of his life-long friend, C. Gardiner Johnston, pioneer shipping man of Vancouver, F. W. Peters, former general superintendent of the British Columbia district of the Canadian Pacific Railway, sailed on the Royal Mail Motorship, S.S. Aorangi, for the Antipodes. Mr. Peters will hand the ashes over to Captain Phillips, of the Aorangi, when the vessel arrives at Sydney, N.S.W., and the captain will then, in accordance with the dying request of Mr. Johnston, commit them to the Pacific Ocean.

Last night's exhibition hockey game between Bellevue and Blairmore senior league teams resulted in a real goal fest. The ice was in splendid condition, but the scoring was somewhat one-sided, thirteen to five for Blairmore. The game was refereed by W. W. Scott. Once again the boosting? public of Blairmore were conspicuous by their absence and there was really no incentive on the part of the teams to put on a real brand of hockey for the entertainment only of the rafters that refused even to ring.

Bodies of six-year-old Sarah Rogers and Albert Marsland, two of the five victims of the drowning New Year's morning in the Columbia river, were rescued on January the 8th from a point a little above the steamer landing at MacKinnon. Sarah was buried with her mother, Mrs. Daniel Rogers, on Saturday. The bodies of Mary Kelly, aged 21, and Fanny Graham, aged 17, were located and recovered on January the 8th, near the same spot. Fanny Graham was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Graham, formerly of Coleman. The Rogers were also former Coleman residents.

ARENA WILL STAGE QUEEN CARNIVAL ABOUT FEB. 14

The management of the Blairmore Arena proposes staging a queen carnival on or about Monday, February the 14th—St. Valentine's.

Weather permitting, this should be a banner affair. Bills will be cut shortly announcing the various features, but in the meantime nominations of candidates for Carnival Queen will be in order. It is suggested that each fraternal organization in town be given the privilege of one nomination, in addition to general nominations.

The proceeds of the carnival will go towards re-covering the roof of the arena.

CURLERS TO BANQUET

As a result of the annual competition, president versus vice-president, with which the Blairmore Curling Club heralds its curling season each year and which was won this year by the vice-president aggregation by the score of 46 to 42 points, a banquet at the expense of the losers for all club members will be held at the Tea Kettle Inn on Wednesday next, January 19th, at 6 p.m.

Mar Poy, of Magrath, is a visitor here today, and as usual is after the first receipts to be issued by the town and school district for current taxes for the ensuing year.

Owners of motor vehicles of all kinds are reminded of the importance of securing their licenses for the year 1927 and plates displayed as soon as possible. Prosecutions will follow if you neglect this duty. Forty-eight hours only are allowed in the sister province of British Columbia and already many convictions have been registered there.

At a dance last night, where there was scarcely room for the great crowd to move, several young sheiks undertook to dance the Charleston, to the great discomfort and displeasure of others in attendance. As a result seventeen ladies are today confined to their homes suffering from bruised legs and crushed feet, etc., and doctors are being rushed in from all nearby points.

More than $1,000,000 collected from the automobile dealers of Canada, under the luxury tax, will be refunded by the Dominion government, according to a wire received by J. A. Banfield, Dominion president of the retail merchants' association. The payment will be made from monies just voted by parliament. Parliament last year voted twenty-five per cent of the total to be refunded, and the present vote represents the remainder of the sum.

The time has arrived when some effort must be made to repair or recover the roof of the arena and curling rinks. This institution is really the biggest asset we have for the young people, and the older folks as well. It was established by a few citizens who invested their money in it, not for any material gain to themselves, but as a direct contribution to the community's welfare. They have never received a cent in return and it is doubtful if they ever will. In view of this fact, it is hardly fair that they should again be required to dig down into their jeans to meet the cost of repairs or operating expenses. The least the public can do is to assist. Everyone in the community owes something towards this institution and towards the support of the cleanest and healthiest brands of sport that are housed therein. Upwards of one thousand dollars will be needed shortly, and in an endeavor to raise part of that amount, a carnival will be staged during the month of February, and your patronage and moral support is earnestly solicited.

Jack McDonald says there's a awful lot of waste on a railroad, they lay it by the carload.

Rev. George Wood, of the Wood's Christian Home, Calgary, will speak at the United Church on Sunday morning next at 11.

James Irwin has been re-elected chairman of the Cowley school board, while W. E. Tustian has been elected to succeed C. J. Bundy, retired.

Wood's Christian Home is being moved to Bowness Park, into commodious quarters secured for $18,000 that originally cost $65,000.

A couple of Fernie boys have been sent to a reform school, following their being found guilty of tampering with postoffice boxes and stealing.

Talking across the Atlantic is now being done, but it costs $75 for three minutes to do it. It is called Radiophony. At that price, women should leave it to their husbands to do the talking.

BERT JOHNSTON and JERRY who with their wooden-headed family and Punch and Judy will appear at the Big Matinee at the Orpheum Theatre during the Bert Johnson Co. engagement on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. Matinee on Saturday at 2.30.

"I'm afraid I can't tell you much more than people generally know," she replied. "It came about after I left America with Yvonne. I ran away, you know, because no one I knew there had any confidence in me."

Prince Michael detected a seriousness as of some suppressed plot, and thought it needed observance. He sought her hand and would have put his over it, oblivious to the others at the table. Joanna brought her hand away. Quietly, she went on:

Before then we had been quite good friends. I remember he had some plan for a memorial; something he wanted some day to build. I was never interested, much, because it wasn't anything I could understand, or wanted to. I remember, though, he objected to its being called a "war" memorial. It was to be something commemorating soldiers themselves. All kind of soldiers. I think—not only our own, but of other countries as well. Somehow he'd made it known as I suppose. Now when you have a mind to talk to him about it, you will know almost as much as I do."

"Morbidity, though," the prince observed. "I can't imagine anything I'd run away from quicker than the reminder of that sort. Sentimental though. I suppose they'll always be doing things of the kind."

"The striking feature of his conception," Yvonne remarked, "seems to be the offering of a woman, a young woman, as the feature inspiration of all soldiers and putting her, instead of the customary fighting figure on his highest pedestal. Others have given tribute to her fighter himself. He proposes a monumental structure which shall draw attention to what soldiers fight for." Of Joanna she asked: "Isn't that the idea?"

"John wouldn't have me then," she said simply—"I doubt if he'd want me now."

"Yes," Joanna agreed. "That wasn't his original plan, but he seems to have adopted it. It's what has caught on. I've read that he contends that it is always a girl that soldiers fight for. They've always left a girl of some kind at home, one like me, perhaps, or the one they're married to—or at least a mother. And mothers and wives were girls in, their day. John has explained that he doesn't think girls change like fashions do. To soldiers who leave them to go to fight for them, they have always been quite the same reliable and worthwhile. It's a quaint sort of an idea, but I suppose it must be a good one."

Yvonne had shot a sudden glance at Joanna, and kept her eyes on her, intently, until she finished.

"If I remember correctly," she observed, "he did not always have the opinion that women don't change."

Joanna nodded at her. "Yes, I've been wondering if he's altered his theories, or just altered his scheme to make it pay."

"At any rate," Kennethworth remarked, "he is in a fair way to see his project materialize." It's becoming internationalized and there I talk at ready of duplicating the idea in other countries. The generation will go any length to draw a lesson or an enlightening memory out of the last upheaval.

Yvonne decided they had given enough of the tea hour to the merits of John's bid for popular fame. She had observed that Kennethworth, while he gave his part to the discussion, was uneasy. He had studied Joanna's face constantly, and watched every changing light in her eyes and line about her lips. She proposed a turn about the Casino rooms.

"We shall have time for an hour of play in tress of quarantine hall," Prince Michael appropriated her "sit once, much to Joanna's satisfaction, and led the way along the avenue of poplars through the Casino gardens to the white terrace.

Kennethworth, lagging behind with Joanna, went directly to the subject that concerned him deeply. "You are not going to let his turning up interfere with things, are you?" he asked.

"As far as I can remember," she returned, "he has never interfered much with me. Used to want to, of course, but couldn't then. I could hardly fancy him being much of an influence now."

"Have you, then, completely wiped him out? As you seemed to imply that night when you invited me to join you in a kiss?"

She laughed. "That was so many ages ago, Roddy! I'd lost track of that one."

"That is evading the question," he rebuked her.

"John wouldn't have me then," she said simply, "when I thought I was the one thing in all the world I wanted to buy with my money. I doubt if he'd want me at all now. He's famous, you see, and well on the road to prosperity. He won't need to take chances. I'm not as good a bet for him now as I was then. Am I, Roddy?" She was darning him with her smile. There was a wistfulness in it at all, just frank, open provocation.

"Do you know," he exclaimed, irritably, "you are the most unfathomable creature within my experience?"

She was silent until they came up to the terrace steps. She dismissed him then as if there had been no lapse of time. "No, I'm not. I was thoroughly fathomed this morning. A man told me he wanted me however and whatever I am. If I could say just what I'd like to say about that, I'd say that would be a damn safe bargain for a man to make with any girl. But I can't say that, of course, for I must be a hypocrite and let on that I never aware."

CHAPTER XXV

When Joanna gambles

Kennethworth would have guided his companion around the big Casino building to the pigeon field which lies between it and the sea, but Joanna preferred to go onto the white terrace and into the gambling room.

In Roddy's manner there was every sign of the truth of Yvonne's observation in the Triton summer house at Amette; that he was worried by the reappearance of John in the girl's scheme of things. Secretly she was disturbed by him. During the months in New York, before her departure for London and France, he had been a superstitious admirer, grateful in his devotion, impressing her as a nun of the world who had decided to direct enthusiasm over a new joy. Then, suddenly, his attitude and his purpose had altered.

He had deliberately followed her and Yvonne to London. It was then that circle of men and women which revolved about men of his kind, young men who are old enough to be deserting and rich enough to be idle, began to take stock of the seriousness of Roddy Kennethworth in his pursuit of the young American millionaire, Joanna Manners. There was a great deal of boudoir grief over this state of affairs, for Kennethworth was known as one who went from one affair to another at slight provocation, but always magnificently—generously. It was felt that if he were definitely lost to his world of sub rosa romance it would be disastrous.

It was generally wished that the young American, whose fresh youth had proved an irresistible charm where charm is translated in terms of flesh, would succumb to the inevitable—or, to Roddy's determinations—and in the usual course, free him for his next feminine engagement. "For," said one young woman to her dancing partner at the fashionable Embassy Club, "Roddy looks as though he were going to be serious, this time; he hasn't had a serious affair since the early days of Yvonne Goulton. He won't be a free agent until he gets over this attack, and the American is delaying matters."

Joanna liked Roddy Kennethworth. She had heard, as people do hear, that Yvonne had been of his making. How much to believe and what to discount she didn't know, nor care. She gloried in her ability, she who had come out from behind silk counter, to bring the green tints into his eyes whenever she was of the whim to make him take note of her. She knew Roddy was in a continual fight with himself over her. Dominator was always her slave. Brandon served her whenever she asked, but he remained aloof; she couldn't sway him—or, rather, she wouldn't. But Roddy made an occasional effort to battle the spell of her, and to thwart him was like quaffing champagne.

"I consider it a great pride and pleasure at this season, as Chief Scout of Canada, to send warm greetings to all Boy Scouts from the most senior commissioner to the youngest Wolf Cub. I trust and pray that the year 1927 will bring you all health, happiness and prosperity and give you opportunities of many acts of brotherhood and service for the honor of your Motherland."

Radiophony Semi-Secret

But Experts Working on Absolute Secrecy Plans Says British Official

Absolute secrecy will not be attained in trans-Atlantic radiophony for some months, an official of the British post office told the Daily Mail. Plans to insure secrecy, however, are complete and it is only a matter of working them out by experts, who are directing their efforts to felling possible eavesdropping.

"We are well aware," the official said, "that the service for some little time will be only semi-secret and that, if a person cares to go to the trouble and expense of fixing the necessary apparatus he will be able to 'tap' messages. We very much doubt, however, whether he will be able to overhear two-way messages."

The voice sounds from overseas, he continued, would be very faint and understandable in London speech unless considerably amplified by a special process which the post office has elaborated.

The Hero Of Quebec

Prince of Wales Delivers Eloquent Eulogy of General Wolfe
The Prince of Wales delivered an eloquent eulogy of General Wolfe at the dinner of the Wolfe society in London, commemorating the bicentenary of the hero of Quebec. Viscount Byng of Vimy, former governor-general of Canada, presided. The guests included Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, and many prominent British and Canadian representatives.

Viscount Byng, in proposing a toast, evoked the heartiest applause by his reference to the prince—"Dunne, sin we love you for yourself."

"I hope, whatever prospects 1927 holds out for others, there are great prospects for my reviving Canada," declared the Prince of Wales.

Speaking of General Wolfe, the prince said: "Every English-speaking boy is, as the saying goes, brought up on Wolfe. To our generation, also, he has a special appeal, for it is impossible to read even the briefest sketch of his short life without being struck by the thought that here was a type exactly like so many of our brilliant young soldiers who made a name for themselves in the Great War."

Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, next year had witnessed a recognition of the spirit in which the constitution of the British Empire depends solely upon devotion to the British crown.

Little Helps For This Week

Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun—Ecc. x. 7.

Serenity will be our days and bright. And happy will be our nights. When love is an unerring light. —William Wordsworth

Love is sunshine.

God wishes us to have the light of love in our homes. He would have in them a tender play of laughter and humor, a pleasant interchange of light and color, warmth, in word and mirth, which makes the brightness perfect, and is as much the work of the sun as the shine in the house as the delightful gaiety of nature is the doing of the sun.

Fortune From Christmas Cards

Recently there was made public the will disposing of the $1,600,000 Christmas card fortune of Sir Adolph Tuck, late chairman of the Imperial Tobacco Co., Ltd., by far the greatest Christmas card firm in the world. Perhaps no revolution from the religious festival on which his fortune was built, Sir Adolph provided that any of his children who married a Christian or outside of the Jewish faith shall be disinherited. All public bequests are made to Jewish institutions.

CHILBLAINS

Life One Long Lesson

No Person Ever Gets Too Old to Learn Something

How many men at the age of forty, nay, to say fifty, have not finally abandoned or embarking on a new venture? Few, indeed the hope of changing their lives if any. Circumstance may jolt them out of their ruts; but their power of volition has largely atrophied. They allow themselves to be thought of as passing out of their prime—instead of just entering. There was a theory of life that achieved some prominence before the war, which was summarized by the slogan "Too old at forty." Some men are too old at twenty—in jest. Others realize that the whole of life is one long lesson. They are still eager to learn, and therefore young at seventy. That was the class to which Henri Rousseau belonged. It is never too late for new activities until the breath of man is out of his body. —London Daily Express.

Saskatchewan Creamery Butter

Creamery butter production in Saskatchewan from January 1st to October 31st, 1926, totalled 15,730,501 pounds, an increase of 1,234,418 pounds over the record for the corresponding period of 1925. Unfavorable weather in September and October caused a reduction in output in those months compared with the figures for the same months last year.

$194,000,000 IS LEFT BY VISITORS

Automobile tourists from the United States entering Canada during the year 1926 left a gross revenue to the people of the Dominion of about $194,000,000, according to a careful estimate made by J. W. Campbell, Dominion commissioner of highways. The revenue for 1925 was around $188,500,000.

From January 1, 1926, to October 31, the number of United States cars entering Canada at customs ports of entry for touring purposes were as follows: Under the 24-hour permit, 1,363,109, estimated gross revenue from them $17,262,180; 30-day permit, 530,742 cars, revenue $109,222,000; six-month period, 4403 cars, revenue $7,925,400.

An indication of the extent of the incoming United States automobile tourist traffic is furnished in last year's totals at the principal entry places: Into British Columbia over the Los Angeles-Vancouver highway, 70,000 cars; Lord Selkirk highway at Emerson, Twin Cities to Winnipeg, 6000 cars; Sault Ste. Marie, 60,000 cars; Sarnia and Port Huron, 60,000 cars; Detroit, 290,000 cars; Niagara Falls and Bridgeport, 820,000 cars; Kingston, Prescott and Brockville, about 73,000 cars; St. Lawrence river, about Quebec province crossings at Lacolle, St. Regis, St. Ammand, Stanhope, Hemmingford, Beebe Junction, Noyah Junction, Phillipsburg and Rock Island, about 14,000 cars; New Brunswick, crossings at St. Stephen, St.

VOLUNTEERS' HOCKEY GOALIES

A proposal was made the other day by someone interested in professional hockey, that the goalkeepers be done away with, as it is getting more and more difficult for opposing forwards to shoot the puck into the net.

With the goalkeepers eliminated, it would be the intention of the proposer of the plan to narrow the goal new down to eighteen inches.

The proposal has created considerable discussion.

There is no doubt that the defence side of hockey is becoming entirely too strong. As the result, overtime play is becoming entirely too frequent, the same as draws, and scores are drawn at that.

The circumference of the goalkeepers, with their baggy trousers, like those of cowboys, and their padded upper bodies, is such that they fill nearly all the space between the posts.

The matter will have to be brought up for remedial legislation, pretty soon, for it is exceedingly difficult under existing conditions to get the puck in, and almost impossible when the goalkeeper falls down parallel with the goal line.

Several of the N.H.L. and the more prominent amateur clubs in eastern Canada have taken the matter up, and it looks as if something would be done before the 1927-28 season starts.

Frank Gregson, operator at the Eureka station, was shot through the chest by a bandit and died shortly afterwards. Two masked men entered the station and ordered the operator to "stick 'em up," which he did, but kept on talking, when one of the pair pointed a gun at his chest and pulled the trigger. The pair made hasty exit upon the arrival of Station Agent Fizer. Later two men were arrested on suspicion.

Leonard's and Milltown, about 460,000 cars, many of which were for the one-day period, as only a narrow river intervenes.

CANADIAN HISTORY

The greatest trial of Alberta in the whole west is not the heavy snow, but the fact that the province is the only one in Canada that has never been visited by a foreigner. It was such the greatest loss to the province, as it was the only one in the west that has never been visited by a foreigner. It was such the greatest loss to the province, as it was the only one in the west that has never been visited by a foreigner.

HUGE FISH CAUGHT OFF ATLANTIC COAST

What is said to be the largest fish in the world, a sea monster of 45 feet long and weighing 30,000 pounds, arrived in Knoxville, Tenn. It was set up at the L. & N. station, where it will be on exhibition for a few days.

The strange fish was caught sixty miles off Miami by Captain Charles Thompson, after a 39-hour battle, in which it was shot 151 times and harpooned five times before taken from the sea and is recognized by the New York Aquarium and the different zoological societies as the largest fish ever seen. The fact that it pulled Thompson's fishing boat for hundreds of miles before being killed gives one an idea of its enormous strength.

Here are a few outstanding facts about it: Weight, 30,000 pounds; length, 45 feet; circumference, 23 feet 9 inches; mouth, 33 inches wide; several thousand teeth. It is believed to be the only fish since Jonah's time captured with a throat large enough to swallow a human.

There are hundreds of strange fish from all parts of the world with the exhibit, including man-eating sharks, flying fish, octopuses, giant turtles, alligators, crocodiles, etc.

Porky is very clever at Mathematics, having made a study of figures, "through opera glasses."

Pete—"Is there any cure for blackheads?"

Hughie—"I don't think so, I find blouses just as bad."

The wheels of time may grind slow, but that ain't the case with the wheels in our light meter.

A young Scotchman married an English girl. Some time afterwards, he paid a visit to a bachelor uncle in Scotland.

"Well," said the uncle, "I hear ye has gotten a wife, Sandy."

"Yes, uncle, ye're right."

"What can she do? Can she knit? Does she mend your clothes?"

"Nay," answered Sandy to all these questions, "she does nothing like 'at."

"Humph," commented the uncle.

"Well, does she cook fine?" he asked after a few moments, "and can she mak' parritch?"

"No, uncle," the young man explained, "but you should hear her sing; she has the most beautiful voice ye ever heard."

"Aye," replied the old man, "but man, could ye no have gotten a canary."

held on Tuesday morning from Hill-terment took place. The funeral was largely attended. Floral offerings were many. Peter died as a result of a gun accidentally discharged on Friday afternoon while the boys were hunting, his brother John stumbling and losing his balance. The full charge hit Peter in the leg, badly mangling his knee. Dr. Donald was rushed to the scene of the accident, when on examination he ordered the injured lad removed to the Hillcrest hospital, where it was considered necessary to amputate the leg, but a blood poison had already set in, the cause proved to be of a very serious nature. In spite of all Doctors Donald and Rose could do, the boy passed away on Sunday morning. Peter was around eighteen years of age and had grown into young manhood here, he having come to this country with his parents some sixteen years ago from the State of Washington. A married sister preceded him in death three months ago, and was also buried in the Cowley cemetery. Peter was a very likeable lad and will be sadly missed in the circle in which he moved. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family."Give me a glass of water, please,"

RAILWAY MEN ARE DEMANDING INCREASED PAY

Montreal.—Wage negotiations involving more than 50,000 men and wage demands ranging from 10 to 12 cents an hour, confront Canadian railways in the opening weeks of this year. One party is proceeding, another dispute is the subject of a board of conciliation proceedings and another negotiation will follow in due course. Negotiations opened around the request of 35,000 maintenance-of-way men on Canadian lines for an increase of 10 cents an hour.

Three representatives of the men are meeting the wage committee of the Railway Association of Canada on this matter and certain working conditions are also the subject of discussion.

Other workers involved include: 25,000 rail shovellers employed on all Canadian lines, asking an increase of ten cents an hour.

18,000 Canadian National Railway workers, office staffs, freight sheds employees, etc., seeking a ten per cent increase for hourly rated men and $20 monthly rated men.

6,000 railway and steamship clerks employed by the Canadian Pacific Railway, requesting wage increases and changes in working conditions. Their request now is before a board of conciliation.

800 Canadian National Railway sleeping, dining and parlor car service employees, requesting a wage increase of approximately 12 per cent.

The pressing for wage increases by the various classes of railway men follows the compromise on wages Canadian National Railways with conciliated by the Canadian Pacific and dueters and trainmen which averted a strike.

In a statement then issued, the railways expressed the realization that the wage concessions then made might make inevitable consideration of requests of other classes for increases.

Welcomes Investigation

Hon. Chas. A. Dunning Issues Statement on Cancellation of Vancouver Hotel Contract

Ottawa.—Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, today issues a parliamentary investigation into the reason for cancelling the contract for erecting a $5,000,000 Canadian National Railway hotel in Vancouver. The contract was authorized by the late government and was later cancelled by the present administration. Statements made in Vancouver by Mayor L. D. Taylor blaming the minister personally for the cancellation of the contract, has led to an exchange of telegrams. The minister issues the following statement regarding the hotel contract cancellation.

"I will welcome parliamentary investigation of the reason for cancelling the Vancouver hotel contract, authorized by the late government, and I will be glad to accept the responsibility, as minister of railways, for recommending such cancellation to the Government.

"Regarding the future, the president and board of directors of the railway company have not yet recommended provision for cancellation of a hotel in Vancouver in 1927.

"The mayor's intimation of unworthy motives is scarcely creditable on the part of the chief executive of a great city and is unworthy of an answer."

Liquor Mystery

Victoria, B.C.—Detectives are attempting to solve, on behalf of the federal customs authorities and the provincial liquor control board, the mystery of the disappearance of a portion of the liquor cargo of the Great Lakes, who 2 years ago fled from Detroit, with a price on his head, is dead at his home here.

Will Make Survey Before Choosing Port

Harbor Expert to Examine Both Outlets for Bay Line

Ottawa.—With five and a half million cubic yards of material to move from the channel in Nelson Harbor, with an unknown sea bottom and a general lack of knowledge about Churchill, Frederick Palmer, the British expert called in by the government to advise on the Hudson's Bay Railway project, is not expected to make a report on the matter until he has made a personal survey. Mr. Palmer has left for England, but will return in July when the Hudson's Bay project is more accessible and will then go north to conduct his investigation.

Mr. Palmer has made a brief but thorough study of the reports and documents available on the subject. Officials of the railway department have been queried in a way they have never been questioned before. Mr. Palmer wanted facts, and he sought them, knowing by his long experience what facts he wanted. Railway department men declare "he knew" his job and has a thoroughgoing manner of making his inquiries.

The fact that Mr. Palmer cannot make his report before next fall at the earliest will not delay the work, it is said. There is much to be done on the railway section already constructed, much rehabilitation of the road to be effected. The Government intends to carry the project to its logical conclusion, but will not be stampeded in rushing the work; only to find that it has taken the wrong route, built the port in the wrong place, made the wrong provisions for the ships that will come. It will be sure it is right, then go ahead.

Radio Telephone

Service Is Ready

Callers Over Atlantic Phone Lines Mechanism Worth Millions

London.—Proof positive that everything is in readiness for the opening of trans-oceanic telephone service between London and New York, was provided by the announcement that already the London telephone operators who will be employed to make the connections between London and New York have thoroughly familiarized themselves with the names of all New York telephone exchanges.

Mr. Shaughnessy, the Assistant Engineer-in-Chief at the General Post Office, who is in charge of British wireless services, has had several conversations with New York, all of which went extremely satisfactory. The voices at the other end, he said, "were as clear as a bell." In fact, according to him those talking from New York across the ocean to London might have been in the next room instead of 3,000 miles away.

Mr. Shaughnessy called attention to the fact that since only one trans-Atlantic telephone conversation can go on at one time this means that each person speaking will be using exclusively for himself or herself something like the $5,000,000 worth of combined telephone mechanism and equipment.

Toronto.—Lieutenant-Governor Harry Cockshutt, of Ontario, at government house was the recipient of a valuable piece of gold plate, the gift of a number of Toronto's prominent citizens. Sir William Mulock, chief justice of Ontario, made the presentation and referred in a brief address to the high esteem in which his honor was held by the citizens of Toronto generally.

French Plans For Atlantic Flight Fail

Funds Needed and Completed Planes Unsatisfactory in Tests

Paris.—France is losing ground in preparations for the Paris-New York non-stop flight due to the financial difficulties facing some of the builders and the little success of certain models tested by others.

The Giant Penhoet hydroplane built at St. Nazaire and tried throughout the summer, has been found too slow to make the Atlantic crossing because of excessive weight. The de Monzie single-wing flying cabin which Boursort hoped to use next summer was never completed due to the builder's failure to obtain funds.

It is now reported that the company which was building an aeroplane for Tarascon was failing and the constructors are looking around for money to complete a trans-Atlantic plane and to continue to manufacture other planes. This company holds the world's speed record of 488 kilometers an hour.

Whatever may be the result of the campaign it now appears that the French prospects of winning the Paris-New York prize for 1927 are very slim, although there seems no immediate danger of another competitor being heard.

SITUATION IN CHINA ASSUMES GRAVE ASPECT

Shanghai.—White foreigners endangered as a result of anti-foreign agitation number more than 1,000 in Hankow and the neighboring city of Wu-chang, headquarters of the Cantonese government.

The little foreign colony, 585 miles from the mouth of the Yangtze, is in the midst of a hostile Chinese population of more than 1,500,000, inflamed by speeches of radical leaders who have detailed alleged wrongs from which the Chinese have suffered at the hands of British and other foreigners, but more particularly the British. Suspicion was expressed here that the Cantonese government leaders were aware of the attacks contemplated upon the British concession before they took place—the suspicion being strengthened by the slowness with which Cantonese troops went to the aid of the British when the concession was attacked. Not until reports had been proceeding for four hours on that day did the Cantonese troops appear.

The Cantonese government has issued many declarations of its intention to abolish all foreign concessions in China and to end the asserted "imperialism" of Great Britain, United States and other foreign nations. London.—All missionaries have been ordered to quit their stations in the interior of China, a Peking despatch to The Daily Mail asserts.

Reports of anti-Christian riots in the Yangtze regions and Szechwan are being received daily, the correspondent adds. Missionaries have been maltreated, the women insulted and the mission stations looted.

On Funds for Half Century

London.—The Commercial Travellers' Benevolent Institution has just received news of the death of one of its annuitants. This woman was on the funds for half a century. Her late husband had subscribed £16 in 1878. She benefited from the institution to the extent of about $7,000.

Killed in Avalanche

Moscow.—An avalanche in the Khakassky district of Siberia has killed 23 miners. The great mass of snow and ice completely engulfed a number of miners' barracks.

OPPOSITION OF U. S. PRESIDENT TO LARGER NAVY

Washington.—President Coolidge has sought to spike the guns of "big navy" men in the House with a warning that budget estimates for the department for the next fiscal year must not be over-stepped.

Arriving at a time when sentiment in the House favorable to the construction, was growing, the President, in a letter to Representative French, Republican, Idaho, in charge of the naval supply bill, declared the budget "represents my best judgment and I feel it my duty to defend it and support it."

Accepting the warning as a challenge, Representative Britten, Republican, Illinois, a member of the naval committee and an advocate of a larger navy, told the House that "when I am in agreement with the more controversial provisions, including those relating to cruisers, were held over."

Several sections of the measure, among them those to maintain the navy's personnel at its present strength, were approved recently, but under agreement the more controversial provisions, including those relating to cruisers, were held over.

Uniformity of Butter Grading

Dairymen Meet at Saskatoon to Discuss Question

Saskatoon.—Improvement of the quality of butter for the British market, to meet competition, not only from the British dominions, but also from the butter exporting countries of Europe, such as Denmark, Holland and Latvia, was the subject of the discussion at the conference of creamery operators and government officials here.

Discussion centred around efforts to secure uniformity of cream and butter grading. Definite action in connection with any changes was deferred until the meeting of the Western Canada dairy convention at Edmonton on February 9, 10, 11 and 12, when producers and manufacturers of the four western provinces will meet. Delegates from Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan were present at the meeting.

Taking Census of Russia

Soviet Officials Report 145,000,000 But Returns are Incomplete

Riga, Latvia.—Russia's population at present numbers 145,000,000, according to incomplete returns which Communist Ogasinsky has received from 100,000 soviet officials who are trying to gather complete statistical facts regarding the inhabitants of the Union of Soviet Republics.

Reports to date, M. Ogasinsky says, show literacy is increasing in Russia instead of decreasing, and the census takers say the population regards them as agents of the devil, working against Christ, whom they believe is preparing to end the world.

London.—Premier J. G. Coates of New Zealand, who came here for the Imperial Conference, was a passenger on the Aquitania sailing Jan. 4 for New York. Later he will go to Montreal and thence to Vancouver.

Edmonton.—Twelve oil companies are either drilling or have sites located in the Hibeone district, near the border of Alberta and Saskatchewan. The present year will see this oil field thoroughly tested.

Heavy Hail Losses Paid

Saskatchewan Farmers Receive $1,200,000 in Insurance During Past Year

Regina.—Payment of hail losses during 1926 to 5,200 farmers in Saskatchewan by the Saskatchewan Municipal Hail Insurance Association amounted to $1,259,000, states J. J. Lamb, secretary manager.

The total payment for hail losses for the whole of 1926 will be completed at the end of the fiscal year, January 31, 1927, and submitted to the annual meeting of the directors January 19 in the association's office in Regina. The annual convention will be held March 1, in Prince Albert, and the agenda for the convention will be drawn up at the meeting of the directors.

The three retiring directors of the association are: J. J. Lamb, Regina; R. E. Van Posen, Lacombe; and J. R. Near, Plunkham.

Despite the doubling of the figures of 1926 in comparison with claims and payments during 1925, Mr. Lamb stated the reserve fund of the association would not be impaired in any way. He stated that while the amount was unknown yet an addition to the reserve fund would be made.

It is expected the total payment on hail losses during 1926 will amount to approximately $1,275,000. There are still 20 claims pending and ownership of the policies and to whom payment should be made must be decided before cheques are issued in payment. All this work is likely to be completed before January 31.

MANY APPLY FOR CHANGES IN CUSTOMS TARIFF

Ottawa.—Applications for changes in the customs tariff continue to accumulate at the office of the tariff advisory board.

The number of investigations going under way is forty, an increase of four in the last few weeks. The board will meet on January 13 to continue several of these, and further sessions are expected to take place before the close of the month. There is increasing evidence that organizations of business men and others are taking keen interest in the work of the board and are preparing to use the facilities it offers to get their point of view before those whose responsibility it is to decide on questions of tariff policy.

Word has been received that the Canadian Council of Agriculture is submitting a memorandum on the application for an increase in duty on corn and cane syrup. The council also, intervened in the application for increase in duties on fruits and vegetables.

Of the forty applications now before the board one-half are for tariff increases and the other for decreases. The applications cover a wide range of commodities.

There are six cases relating to textiles, which are of vital interest to manufacturers and importers of garments and haberdasheries, cottons, woolen goods, and similar goods; four of the applications relate to machinery of various kinds such as pumps and pump parts, water wheel governors, small hand sprayers, electric and power plants and so forth; three applications refer to the iron and steel industry; three to chemicals, two to wood products; two to food products; two to the pulp and paper industry; and two to ropes and twines; while there are other problems referred to the board to respect coal and coke, magazines, oil, plays, piano music, furniture, objects of art, tin, livestock and leather products.

HOW EX-SOLDIERS SUCCEED UNDER SETTLEMENT PLAN

Ottawa.—More than 25,000 ex-soldiers have benefited under the Soldier Settlement legislation of 1917 and 1919. Over 24,000 have received direct financial assistance and 6,500 have been given free grant of Dominion lands without financial aid.

In a survey covering nearly 9 years of operation, Major E. J. Ashton, commissioner of the Soldier Settlement Board of Canada gives the proportions of successes and failures among the soldiers who took up land. "During 1925-26," stated the commissioner, "soldiers settled on well over 24,000,000 acres in the Dominion treasury, a sum which, in addition to covering all administrative costs, more than suffices to provide the funds used during the year for general colonization purposes including advances under the 3,000 British family scheme."

"There were 17,287 settlers with payments due in 1925-1926. Of these 8,439 met their payment in full, 6,920 made part payments and 4,511 made pre-payments. As at November 30 last, 818 met their payments in full; of these 513 were still farming and 400 had sold their farms. Among those who have repaid their loans are men whose success in the difficult post-war years has been amazing. Some who started with little are today rated by their bankers as worth $5,000 to $20,000, all made from the land. They are by no means unusual among the cases which have passed from out of our jurisdiction and are well re-established and are today a credit to the communities in which they live."

Renown Sails With Royal Passengers

Duke and Duchess of York Start on Long Trip

Portsmouth, England.—The Duke and Duchess of York, boarding the battle cruiser Renown, on which the Prince of Wales made his great tour some years ago, have started on their 24,000-mile globe-circling voyage designed to lighten the bonds between the Mother Country and the Dominions of New Zealand and Australia. The Prince of Wales, Prince Henry and Prince George accompanied the Royal voyagers to Portsmouth. Lord Frederick Baldwin and other Government officials, as well as the Earl and Countess of Strathmore, parents of the Duchess, also were at the station. The King and Queen, who, as the Duke and Duchess of York, made the same trip a quarter of a century ago, affectionately kissed the travellers goodbye and appeared just as excited at the parting as the Duke and Duchess themselves.

Liabilities Are Smaller

But Commercial Failures in Canada Show Slight Increase

Toronto.—A small increase in the number of commercial failures, but a considerable decrease in liabilities, is shown by the report of failures for 1926, compiled by R. G. Dun and Company.

With a total of 21,773, last year's defaults exceed by a little more than 2 per cent those for 1925, whereas an indebtedness estimated at $49,232,373 for the 12 months just ended is nearly 8 per cent below the amount for the immediately preceding year. The number of insolventcies is the largest reported for any year since 1925, but the liabilities are the smallest for all years back to 1920.
